About Heights Arts

Heights Arts is a nonprofit community arts organization in Cleveland Heights, Ohio. The community's proximity to University Circle, home to cultural destinations in Cleveland which include the Cleveland Museum of Art and Severance Hall, has created a place rich with artists, performers, art educators, administrators and others who make their livelihood in the performing or visual arts.

Heights Arts contributes to the region's artistic vitality by showing regional artists at Heights Arts Gallery, facilitating public art and design projects, presenting chamber music and community concerts in intimate settings and public spaces, supporting the Cleveland Heights Poet Laureate, and holding workshops in the arts. This multi-disciplinary arts organization, taps into the potential of the creative residents to enrich community life.
